

Dr Mutayyab
Shah

Dr Mutayyab Shah, MBBS MRCOG FRANZCOG
Vast experience and expertise position Dr Shah as a leader in pregnancy and women's health on the Central Coast.

The highly skilled and passionate surgeon has been Director of Maternity Services for Gosford Private Hospital since his appointment to the role in 2013.

Dr Shah's leadership and guidance also extends to Central Coast Local Health District (CCLHD) where he is the Director of Obstetrics and Gynaecology. He has overseen a large expansion, in both Gynaecology and high risk Obstetric services, in the local public hospital system.

Dr Shah first began consulting on the Central Coast in 2010 after graduating from his specialty training program at Oxford University in the UK, and then completing a brief stint as a Senior Registrar at St. George Hospital in Sydney.

His comprehensive education also includes advanced training in Benign Abdominal, Vaginal and Laparoscopic Surgery.

Dr Shah now shares his extensive knowledge as Conjoint Lecturer for Obstetrics and Gynaecology for the University of Newcastle and is also a training supervisor with the Royal Australia and New Zealand College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists.

Services offered by Dr Shah at Gosford Private Hospital include, but are not limited to:

- Obstetrics including high risk pregnancies
- General Gynaecology
- Uro-gynaecology
- Prolapse surgery
- Gynaecology endocrine disorders
- Management of pelvic masses
- Mirena insertion
- Treatment for menstrual disorders
- Contraception services including tubal ligation
- Minimal access Gynaecology surgery
